Window-Shade Watchers

Hidden in Plain Sight — Booklet

What This Is

Faces on the blinds. Watchers at the window. I did not see them while I was standing there; I saw them when the photos came back. Some mornings nothing. Other mornings a lot. No circles, no arrows, no added lines.

Notes

These frames are records, not arguments. Originals kept; light crops only. If you see what I saw, great. If not, that is fine too. This is here so the glimpses do not get lost.
